K. OF P.'S IN MOST LIVELY CELEBRATION

SONG, DANCE, BANQUET AND
SPEECHES MAKE FOR A
MERRY EVENING.

The forty-seventh anniversary of the founding of the Knights of Pythias has come and gone and left behind it a pleasant recollection in the minds of the members of Mizpah lodge, No. 25, who together with the Pythian Sisters, made merry last night in honor of the occasion.

Music and dance, mingled with a banquet and short addresses bearing on the fraternal organization, tended to enliven the evening. Past Chancellor Baillet delivered an interesting talk on Damon and Pythias, illustrating his remarks with colored lantern slides, while Past Grand Chancellor W. W. Booth gave a synopsis of the history of the organization from its inception down to the present time.

The banquet, music and dance followed the speech-making and all who were in attendance left feeling that the evening had been a most enjoyable one and one well spent.

ASSEMBLYMAN WHITE WANTS FREE TEXT BOOKS

Assemblyman White of Reno presented a bill to the legislature providing for free text books for the children of our public schools.

It is understood that the measure is being fought by the superintendent of public instruction and his deputies.

The measure calls for the compilation of the books by the state board of education and the printing and mechanical work shall be done at the state printing office. All books to be furnished to the children absolutely free.

The bill is one of the best that has been introduced during the session and should be carried through with a rush.

It is also meet and proper that the books should be compiled by home talent and printed by Nevada people in a Nevada print shop.

It is claimed that the state superintendent and his deputies do not object to the furnishing of the free books but do object to the work of the compilation and the printing of the books within the state. They believe that the books should be purchased from firms dealing in such books.

EDITOR NICKLIN REMEMBERS HE USED TO BE A BOY

Editor Nicklin, in boosting the bee industry in the Barstow Printer, takes himself back to boyhood days, beside making some terse comments on the bee business in general. He says:

"Every farmer should a few stands of bees. Now is the time to buy bees, as they cannot be moved during the working season.
E. L. White has about twenty stands at $4.50 per stand.

"John Stunacle recently bought some bees from Mr. White. They are now getting ready for spring work on the ranch. Bees are easily handled if you don't get hold of the wrong end—most docile and industrious creatures on earth, considering how they are despoiled of their honey. Men raise an awful howl when robbed of their honey.

"Bees made our boyhood days worth living. One day, well remembered, the editor put a potato in the hive door to have fun with the bees. Then in a moment of misguided pity, took away the potato. We can remember the fun yet.

"Every family should have a hive of bees to put the finishing touches on a boy's education."
